

Juan María Solare's (Don Solare's) activities at the festival Tango Rojo, London, May 2011

(All events take place at the Latvian House, 72 Queensborough Terrace, W2 3SH London)
(tube Bayswater/Queensway)

1) Cómo cruzar el Río Nebuloso - How to cross the Misty River

by and with Juan Maria Solare (featuring Mark Phoenix and Kate Juliette Paige)
Wed, 18th May 2011, 9pm (to 9.30)

Endless fog, an old magician and four fugitives... a river to be crossed and an enigma to be solved. Sarcasm and philosophy interspread with theatre of the absurd - and wit. A (clean) comedy about human relations within a music ensemble. If Oscar Wilde could have written a play with tango, it would have been this one.

2) Mini recital (25-30 Min)

Wed, 18th May 2011, 10.45pm (to 11.15)

With tango music by Juan María Solare - in part from his CD Tango Monologues, in part from all ages of tango. Titles as Tengo un tango and Puma (British premiere!). Also tangos by Gardel, Piazzolla - and some tango-song.

3) Lecture "Piazzolla, Revolucionario"

Sat, 21st May 2011, 6.15pm (to 9)

"Piazzolla obliged all of us to study again"

synthesized his tango colleague Osvaldo Pugliese. on what consisted Piazzolla's musical revolution? What did he change and what remained the same? Is it still tango or is it "urban music" in general? Which consequences has his musical revolution for dancers? A lecture by Juan Maria Solare on the year Piazzolla's would have turned 90.
